

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY PRESENTS:

"LAST GRAVE AT DIMBAZA"

a graphic, moving exposé of RACIST APARTHEID in South Africa

The following practices create huge profits for 350 U.S. corporations and racist misery and oppression for the majority of South Africans: 1) Black families being forcibly separated; 2) Black workers being paid 50¢ an hour by GM, Ford and Chrysler while they pay white workers $2.00 an hour 3) Black workers not being permitted to hold skilled jobs 4) Labor unions being illegal for black workers

(REPRINTED FROM A RECENT COPY OF CHALLENGE);

The struggle against racism and capitalism in South Africa is causing a lot of trouble for U.S. imperialism, which has heavy investment there (as documented in previous issues of Challenge) and is one of the main supporters of the Vorster regime. Here in the U.S. we must learn from the many positive aspects of the rebellion of black and mulatto and students there, supported also by many white students. We must support their struggle by building a movement to destroy racism here. PLP, which has already organized demonstrations and other activities in support of the struggle against apartheid believes that the struggle in South Africa will become a focal point of the international struggle against capitalism, imperialism and racism. Therefore, we support the struggle not only out of the communist spirit of international solidarity, but also because it is central to the struggle against racism and for socialism here in the United States.
